JOURNAL OF PATHOLOGY, VOLUME 111

INDEX OF SUBJECTS

PAGE

ACINUS, pulmonary, particularly in alveoli bordering blood vessels and bronchi, occasionally in those subpleurally, sites of development of dust foci in guinea-pigs inhaling silica-containing coal dust; "tear-drop" acini from dust foci in in air-sacs of same acinus 31
ACTH, exogenous, inhibition of apoptosis of adrenal cortical cells in neonatal period by 255 injection reverses increased adrenal cortical cell deletion (apoptosis) after prednisolone treatment in adult rats, decapitation in foetal rats. . . 85
ADRENALS, apoptotic deletion of cells in cortex of rapid in first week of postnatal life; less so thereafter throughout life; process active and inherently controlled 255
cortical cell deletion (apoptosis) greatly increased in adult rats by prednisolone treatment, in foetal rats by decapitation, reversed by concomitant injection of ACTH 85
ALBUMIN, small amounts diffusely present in cornea and ciliary processes in normal eyes 263
ANASTOMOSES of capillaries invading deep-vein thrombi with vasa venarum not proved, but likely in some anchored thrombi 1
ANTIBODY to seminiferous epithelium in some guinea-pigs on deficient diet that develop allergic orchitis; possibly nutritional state affects access of antibody to seminiferous tubules . 77
ANTIGEN, endogenous, evidence for in adjuvant-induced arthritis in rats . 229
APOPTOSIS of adrenal cortical cells enhanced in neonatal period with ACTH withdrawal at that time, prevented by exogenous ACTH . 255 adrenal cortical, greatly enhanced in adult rats by prednisolone treatment, in foetal rats by decapitation, reversed by concomitant injection of ACTH 85
ARCUS, corneal, relation to atherosclerosis 263
ARTERIAL PRESSURE, pulmonary, and lung structure of baboon Papio papio . 43
ARTERIES, effects of ultrasound at various intensities 275

PAGE

pulmonary, in baboon Papio papio thin-walled, conducting blood at low pressure, as in patas monkey; reported muscular pulmonary arteries in vervet monkey not typical of monkeys generally 43
retinal, some correlation of corneal arcus formation with atherosclerosis of 263
ARTHRITIS, adjuvant-induced, in rat, evidence for endogenous antigen in . 229
ASCITES production in dimethylnitrosamine-induced liver injury, ultrastructural study 103 rare in bilharzial pipe-stem portal fibrosis in Zambia 23
ATHEROMA lipids, reaction to in subcutaneous tissues of rats . . . 247
AUTO-IMMUNE DISEASE inhibited in ovum-fusion-derived NZB↔CFW chimaeras, but not in progeny . . 213

BABOON (Papio papio), pulmonary arteries thin-walled, conducted blood at low pressure, like those of patas monkey, unlike reported state in vervet monkey 43
BACTERIAL SPECIES, Mycobacterium leprae in skin lesions of leprosy, factors affecting distribution 191
BILHARZIA, bilharzial pipe-stem portal fibrosis in Zambia 23 ova, granulomatous reaction to in schistosomiasis of spinal cord; ova of Schistosoma mansoni in three, and of S. haematobium in two, of seven cases reported 57
ova in tumour in all three cases of osteogenic sarcoma of urinary bladder 53
BLADDER, urinary, primary osteogenic sarcoma of 53
BRAIN swelling with pituitary infarction in patients maintained on mechanical respirators 135
BREAST, muscular hamartomas of . . 209

CALCIUM deposition in vitamin D-induced nephrocalcinosis in jirds: in hyperthyroid animals in basement-membranes in renal cortex; in hypothyroid animals as casts in renal medulla and papilla; in euthyroid animals less numerous as casts in medulla and in basement-membranes in cortex 13

CALVES, Friesian, GM1 gangliosidosis in . 173
CAPILLARY invasion of deep-vein thrombi direct from vein wall at attached zones, at unattached zones after growth of surface endothelium from attached zones, at same time or soon after infiltration by histiocytes and fibrocytes; in fibrous intimal thickenings and other fibrous remnants capillaries often abnormal . . 1
CARBIMAZOLE, effect of on vitamin D-induced nephrocalcinosis in jirds; calcium deposited as casts in renal medulla and papilla . . . 13
CARBON particles aspirated by inbred mice are taken up by alveolar macrophages, but most remain free in alveoli 159
CARRAGEENAN-induced pleurisy and peritonitis, relation of cellular changes and development of exudate to prostaglandin E and F levels in cells and fluid 149
CELL(S), capillary endothelial of lung, oedema and thickening of basal lamina, with enclosed fragments of extravasated leucocytes, in mitral stenosis 239 deletion (apoptosis) in adrenal cortex greatly increased in adult rats by prednisolone treatment, in foetal rats by decapitation, reversed by concomitant injection of ACTH 85 deletion (apoptosis) in adrenal cortex; separation from neighbours, pronounced nuclear and cytoplasmic condensation with fragmentation to form discrete membrane-bounded bodies, in which cytoplasmic organelles are well preserved even after phagocytosis . 255 large mononuclear, in lung alveolar spaces in mitral stenosis . . . 239 pulmonary, type-I, type-II and endothelial, of rat, autolysis in tissue culture 125 renal glomerular epithelial, morphology, normal and after intravenous aminonucleoside 37 sensitised, probably not involved in allergic orchitis, as this may develop spontaneously in guinea-pigs fed on deficient diet, and is increased in severity in them by immunisation with testis extracts and Freund's incomplete adjuvant . . . 77 smooth-muscle and endothelial, vacuolation and necrosis of after exposure of arteries to ultrasound . . . 275
-types, three in development of Paneth cells; a fourth, intermediate between Paneth cells and goblet cells, never seen in normal adult material, only in neonatal and foetal intestines . 181
CEREBELLUM, teratoid tumour . . 285
CHAGAS' DISEASE, acute, in rats, pulmonary vascular permeability increased only if rats have clinical signs; in chronic disease exercise increases incidence and severity of increased pulmonary vascular permeability . . . 47
CHIMAERAS, ovum-fusion-derived from NZB and CFW mice, auto-immune disease in and in chimaera × NZB and chimaera × CFW F1 progeny . 213
CHOLESTENE-3β,5α,6β-TRIOL pellets produce extensive necrosis and acute inflammatory reaction in rat subcutaneous tissue; may cause similar changes in atheromatous plaques . 247
CHOLESTEROL esters of polyunsaturated fatty acids least reactive in rat subcutaneous tissue; reaction to cholesteryl hydroxy- and hydroperoxyoctadecadienoate relatively mild . 247
COAL dust, silica-containing, production of experimental simple pneumoconiosis in guinea-pigs inhaling . 31
COLLAGEN gel base for growth of children's tumours in tissue culture . . . 117
CONNECTIVE TISSUE, dense, surrounding some lung alveolar capillaries and displacing them away from alveolar wall, in mitral stenosis . . . 239
CORNEA, lipid deposition in arcus senilis, relation to atherosclerosis not close . 263

DESQUAMATION of endothelial cells of arteries exposed to ultrasound . 275
DIET, pelleted, with ascorbic acid but no fresh vegetables, 27 of 44 guinea-pigs fed on showed spontaneous orchitis (11 with antibody) increased in severity by immunisation with testicular extracts and Freund's incomplete adjuvant; no guinea-pig fed on fresh vegetable diet developed orchitis even when so immunised . 77
DILATATIONS, focal, in experimental pneumoconiosis in guinea-pigs, mainly by dilatation and fusion of alveolar ducts of affected lung areas . . 31
DIMETHYLNITROSAMINE-induced liver injury: fluid leaks through basement-membrane of veins to form large submesothelial oedema pools, from which protein-rich fluid leaks through stigmata and stomata to peritoneum at such a rate that it cannot be absorbed completely from the peritoneum and so ascites develops 103

DISTRIBUTION of leprosy lesions dependent on site of primary lesion and on immunity state of host 191
DUST foci essential lung lesion in guinea-pigs inhaling silica-containing coal dust; lesion in air-sac of acinus undergoes organisation and shrinkage, with consequent emphysema in alveolar ducts 31

ELECTRON-MICROSCOPE STUDY of alveolar capillary wall in mitral stenosis. . 239 of ascites production in dimethylnitrosamine-induced liver injury . 103 of carrageenan-induced inflammation, cell-changes in association with presence of prostaglandins E and F . 149 of changes in arteries due to ultrasound 275 of effect of lupinosis toxin on mouse liver 221 of in-vitro autolysis of neonatal rat lung cells 125 of pulmonary changes in rats, mice and guinea-pigs after injection of specific anti-lung serum 95 of uptake of inert particulate matter by pulmonary alveolar cells . . . 159
EMPHYSEMA in alveolar ducts of guinea-pigs inhaling silica-containing coal dust wholly "compensatory" . . . 31
ENDOTHELIUM of vein wall, spread from edges of attached areas of deep-vein thrombi to unattached zones, preliminary to capillary invasion of thrombus there 1
ENZYMES, β-galactosidase, reduction of activity in tissue-extracts of central nervous system in GM1 gangliosidosis 173
EPIDERMIS, subepidermal and intra-epidermal lesions of leprosy . . . 191
EPIDIDYMIS, allergic lesion in precedes testis lesion in animals fed on fresh vegetable diet and immunised with testicular extracts and complete Freund's adjuvant; in guinea-pigs fed on deficient diet and immunised with incomplete adjuvant, allergic epididymal lesion never precedes testicular lesion . 77
EPITHELIUM, pigmented, in teratoid tumour of cerebellum . . . 285 of renal glomerular capillary loops, changes after single intravenous dose of aminonucleoside from complex branched normal structure to flattened epithelium with irregular cell boundaries 37
ERROR, hereditary metabolic, in GM1 gangliosidosis in Friesian calves . 173
EYE, changes in formation of arcus senilis: first lesions show lipid deposition in cornea and sclera, later ones in ciliary body, ciliary process, and, as flecks, in iris 263

FABRY'S DISEASE, foamy transformation of renal glomerular visceral epithelial cells in 61
FIBRINOGEN, localised deposition in eyes with corneal arcus 263
FIBROBLAST growth in tissue cultures of astrocytomas and neuroblastomas of children perhaps due to stimulation of their growth by neoplastic cells . 117
FIBROSIS, bilharzial pipe-stem portal, in Zambia, due to Schistosoma mansoni, nomenclature of stages of; much less common than classical hepatic cirrhosis. 23
FLUKES, Schistosoma mansoni, reaction to eggs of in pipe-stem portal fibrosis in Zambia due to 23
FORSSMAN ANTISERA probably do not react with same lung receptors as anti-guinea-pig-lung antisera do, though results of injection much the same . 95
FRAGMENTATION, organic, endothelium-lined clefts in deep-vein thrombi in distinct from capillary invasion . 1

GANGLIOSIDOSIS, GM1 in Friesian calves, possibly analogous to type-II GM1 gangliosidosis in man . . . 173
GAUCHER'S DISEASE, renal glomerular endothelial cells and possibly some cells derived from blood stream loaded with storage material, with foamy cytoplasm, in 61
GIANT-CELLS, foreign-body, reaction to arachis oil in cysts in lymph-glands after repeated injection of arachis oil-based pitressin tannate . . . 207
GLOBULIN, γG-, small amount diffusely present in cornea and ciliary processes in normal eyes . . . 263
γM-, diffuse infiltration of ocular structures with in cases of corneal arcus 263
GOBLET CELLS normally probably developed independently of Paneth cells, but Paneth cells may in special circumstances give rise to them . . 181
GRANULOMA, sarcoid-like, in two patients with thyrotoxicosis . . . 289
GUINEA-PIGS, experimental simple pneumoconiosis in 31 lung changes after injection of rabbit anti-guinea-pig-lung serum or rabbit Forssman antiserum . . . 95

PAGE

GUINEA-PIGS, some fed on pelleted diet with added ascorbic acid but no fresh vegetables developed spontaneous orchitis (some with antibody), increased in severity by immunisation with testicular extracts and Freund's incomplete adjuvant; no such orchitis in guinea-pigs on fresh vegetable diet, even when so immunised . . . 77

HAEMATEMESIS from oesophageal varices common presenting symptom in bilharzial pipe-stem portal fibrosis in Zambia 23
HAMARTOMA, muscular, of breast . . 209
HEART VALVES, mitral stenosis, ultrastructural changes in alveolar-capillary wall in lung . . . 239
26-HYDROXYCHOLESTEROL pellets excite acute inflammatory response with extensive necrosis in rat subcutaneous tissue; may cause similar changes in atheromatous plaques . . . 247
HYPERLIPIDAEMIA, importance of local increased vascular permeability in determining incidence of lipoprotein deposition in eye structures . . 263

INFANTS AND CHILDREN, neonatal, changes in lung cells of after death resemble those of neonatal rat lung cells in tissue culture 125 studies of tumours of by tissue culture . 117 teratoid tumour of cerebellum in 6-yr-old boy 285 IMMUNITY, cell-mediated to BCG, no relation between delay in development and development of secondary lesions in adjuvant-induced arthritis in rats with denervated affected limb . 229 state of patient, effect on distribution and numbers of leprosy bacilli in skin . 191
IMMUNOFLUORESCENCE TECHNIQUES applied to insudations and lipid deposition in arcus senilis 263
INFARCTION of pituitary gland in patients maintained on mechanical respirators 135
INTESTINE, foetal, and near neoplastic areas in adult colon and in inflamed areas of adult small bowel, intermediate stage between Paneth cells and goblet cells 181

JIRDS, Meriones unguiculatus, used for determining effect of hypo- and hyper-thyroidism on renal calcium deposition in vitamin D-induced nephrocalcinosis 13

KIDNEY(S) calcium deposition in vitamin D-induced nephrocalcinosis in jirds, modifications by hyper- and hypothyroidism 13 glomerular involvement in storage diseases 61 of rat, main change in aminonucleoside nephrosis is retraction and realignment of foot-processes rather than intracellular fusion . . . 37
KVEIM TEST in two cases of thyrotoxicosis with sarcoid-like granuloma of thyroid 289

LEPROSY, early skin lesions in, vascular, neural and subepidermal . . . 191
LEUCOCYTES, migrating, probably major source of prostaglandins in inflammatory exudates 149
LIPIDS, atheroma, reaction to in rat subcutaneous tissue 247
LIPOPROTEIN, low-density, probably vehicle transporting lipid into structures bounding anterior chamber of eye by insudation; similar to suggested changes in atherosclerosis, but not parallel to severity of it; localised deposition in ocular structures . . 263
LIVER, bilharzial pipe-stem portal fibrosis in Zambia 23 injury induced by dimethylnitrosamine, origin of ascites in 103 mouse, effect of lupinosis toxin . . 221
LUNG alveolar epithelium, type-I cells phagocytic, type-II not, so probably secretory; type-I cells may transfer submicron particles to interstitium; larger particles may be included in interstitium by reticulin incorporation in alveolar walls and renewal of epithelial lining 159 changes in rats, mice and guinea-pigs after injection of specific anti-lung sera: vacuolation, swelling and sloughing of vascular endothelium, oedema of perivascular and peribronchial connective tissue and alveolar septa, separation of vascular layers to form channels; platelet thrombi in some small vessels 95 neonatal rat, autolysis of cells of in tissue culture 125 ultrastructure of alveolar-capillary wall in mitral stenosis 239
LUPINOSIS, ultrastructure of liver lesions in mice given an injection of lupinosis toxin 221
LYMPH-GLANDS, lymphadenopathy following repeated injections of pitressin tannate in 207

MACROPHAGES phagocytosing inhaled coal dust accumulate layer by layer to form linear streaks in pulmonary acini of experimental guinea-pigs . . . 31 pulmonary alveolar, take up some aspirated finely particulate carbon; when they die, expose alveolus to further carbon stimulation 159 show most change in inflammatory exudates at time of maximal rise of prostaglandin E concentration there . 149 MANTOUX TEST positive in two cases of thyrotoxicosis with sarcoid-like granuloma of thyroid 289

MEDULLOBLASTOMA-like tissue in teratoid tumour of cerebellum . . . 285
MELANIN in urine of patient with malignant melanotic neuro-ectodermal tumour of posterior mediastinum . . 165 pigment in epithelium in a teratoid tumour of cerebellum . . . 285
MELANOMA, malignant neuro-ectodermal, of posterior mediastinum, possibly a one-sided development of a teratoma of neural crest remnants . . . 165
METAPLASIA, cuboidal-cell, of alveolar walls of lung in mitral stenosis . 239
METASTASES in bones from malignant melanotic neuro-ectodermal tumour of posterior mediastinum . . 165 in lymph-glands, lungs, and right ventricle from osteogenic sarcoma of urinary bladder 53
METHODS, PATHOLOGICAL, dyed barium sulphate suspension for injection of arterial tree down to large capillaries 1
MITOCHONDRIA possibly act as temporary ion-buffering systems in normal state; hypothyroidism reduces this activity, leading, particularly in hypercalcaemia due to vitamin-D administration, to high cytoplasmic calcium concentrations and cell death; hyperthyroidism greatly increases mitochondrial activity, so cellular damage prevented . 13
MONKEY, patas (Erythrocebus patas patas), pulmonary arteries thin-walled, conducting blood at low pressure, as in baboon Papio papio, not as in vervet monkey, said to have thick-walled muscular pulmonary arteries . . 43 vervet (Cercopithecus aethiops aethiops), said to have muscular pulmonary arteries, not typical of monkeys in general 43 MOUSE liver, effect of injected lupinosis toxin on 221 lung changes after injection of rabbit anti-mouse-lung serum 95 reaction to aspirated finely divided carbon in lung alveoli . . . 159
MUCOPOLYSACCHARIDOSIS, foamy transformation of renal glomerular visceral epithelial cells in 61
MUSCLE, smooth, in hamartomas of breast, possibly of myo-epithelial origin 209
striated, in teratoid tumour of cerebellum 285

NECROSIS of pituitary gland in patients maintained on mechanical respirators 135
NEPHROCALCINOSIS, vitamin D-induced, in jirds, effect of triiodothyronine-induced hyperthyroidism and carbimazole-induced hypothyroidism on distribution of renal calcification in . 13
NEPHROSIS, aminonucleoside: glomerular epithelial cell-bodies and processes swell, space between annular processes reduced so that they overlie foot-processes; pits in cell-bodies and processes probably represent collapsed intracellular vacuoles; foot-processes shorter and thicker with free rounded clubbed ends 37
NERVE(S), sciatic, denervation of and so immobilisation of limb delays onset of secondary lesions in adjuvant-induced arthritis in rats . . . 229 vascular spread of leprosy from . . 191
NEURONES ballooned with glycolipid in GM1 gangliosidosis in Friesian calves, no visceral storage 173
NIEMANN-PICK'S DISEASE, renal glomerular endothelial cells and possibly some cells derived from blood stream loaded with storage material, with foamy cytoplasm, in 61
NITROGEN, liquid, as preservative for children's tumours intended for tissue culture 117
NOMENCLATURE of stages in bilharzial pipe-stem portal fibrosis in Zambia 23

OBITUARIES——
James Henry Dible (portraits) . . 65
Richard Douglas Passey (portrait) . 139
OIL, arachis, localised lymphadenopathy following repeated injections of pitressin tannate in 207
ORCHITIS, allergic, spontaneous development in guinea-pigs fed on deficient diet 77 ORGANISATION of deep-vein thrombi closely associated with filling of thrombus capillaries from arterial circulation; central only in some circumferentially unattached thrombi 1 of duct foci in experimental simple pneumoconiosis in guinea-pigs, with shrinkage and emphysema of alveolar ducts 31

PAGE

PANETH CELLS, development of suggests they may be reserves from which goblet cells may develop in special circumstances 181
PAW, rat, effect of extracts of carrageenan-inflamed, used as antigen in rats with sciatic denervation: parallelism of development of cell-mediated immunity to BCG and of secondary lesions 229
PERMEABILITY, pulmonary vascular, increased in exercised normal rats only if they have "pneumopathy of ageing"; in acute chagasic rats only if they have clinical signs of the disease; increased incidence and severity in exercised chronic chagasic rats . . 47
PITUITARY GLAND, necrosis in patients maintained on mechanical respirators 135
PLEURISY, carrageenan-induced, relation of cell changes and development of exudate to prostaglandin E and F levels 149
PNEUMOCONIOSIS, experimental simple, in guinea-pigs 31
PNEUMOCYTES, granular, probably not phagocytic, secretory only . . 159 granular, proliferation in alveoli in mitral stenosis 239 PROSTAGLANDINS E and F, increase in E relative to F as inflammatory exudates due to carrageenan develop, increase in F and fall in E/F ratio in cells and fluid as inflammation wanes; migrating leucocytes probably major source of 149 uncertainty in assay of 149
PROTOZOA, Mastigophora, Trypanosoma cruzi infection in rats, effect of exercise on 47

RABBITS, effect of ultrasound at various intensities on the central artery of the ear of 275
RAT(S), adult, deprived of ACTH by prednisolone treatment, and foetuses so deprived by decapitation show increased adrenal cortical cell apoptosis, reversible on injection of ACTH 85 albino Wistar, scanning electron microscopy of aminonucleoside nephrosis in 37 effects of atheroma lipids in subcutaneous tissue of 247 evidence for endogenous antigen in adjuvant-induced arthritis in . . 229 factors affecting apoptotic deletion of adrenal cortical cells in 255 lung cells, neonatal, autolysis in tissue culture 125

lung changes after injection of rabbit anti-rat-lung serum 95 neonatal, autolysis of lung cells of in tissue culture 125 normal and chagasic, resting or exercised, use of colloidal carbon technique to show increased pulmonary vascular permeability in . . . 47 normal, show increased pulmonary vascular permeability on exercise only if they have "pneumopathy of ageing" 47 origin of ascites in dimethylnitrosamine-induced liver injury . . . 103 role of prostaglandins E and F in carrageenan-induced pleurisy and peritonitis in 149
REMNANTS of deep-vein thrombosis, i.e., subendothelial fibrosis and fibrotic bands or threads, often show abnormal capillaries 1
RESPIRATORS, mechanical, necrosis of anterior and sometimes of posterior pituitary in patients maintained on . 135
REVIEWS OF BOOKS—
The skin (30 authors. Ed. by Elson B. Helwig and F. K. Mostofi) . . 147
Laboratory diagnosis of endocrine diseases (compiled and edited by F. William Sunderman and F. William Sunderman, Jr) 147
Ultrastructure of the peripheral nervous system and sense organs: atlas of normal and pathologic anatomy (Jean Babel, Albert Bischoff and Heinrich Spoendlin. Ed. by Albert Bischoff) 148
Exfoliative cytopathology (Zuher M. Naib) 148

SARCOID-like granuloma of thyroid with thyrotoxicosis 289
SCANNING ELECTRON-MICROSCOPE STUDY of aminonucleoside nephrosis . . 37
SCHISTOSOMIASIS of spinal cord, seven cases; six with symptoms of space-occupying lesion (one of dorsal cord, five of conus medullaris), one with symptomless involvement of conus medullaris found at necropsy . 57
SCLERA, changes in arcus senilis in; relation to atherosclerosis . . 263
SERUM proteins and lipids: in normal eyes albumin and γG-globulin in cornea and ciliary processes; in corneal arcus γM-globulin diffusely present, fibrinogen and low-density lipoprotein localised . . . 263
SKIN, early lesions of leprosy in, sources of infection 191

PAGE

SPINAL CORD, schistosomiasis of, seven cases: six with symptoms of space-occupying lesion, one with symptomless involvement of conus medullaris. 57
SPREAD of leprosy lesions mainly vascular from nerves; in these no sub-epidermal involvement; epidermal infection may give rise to intra- and sub-epidermal lesions . . . 191
STORAGE DISEASE, histochemistry of stored material in neurones in GM1 gangliosidosis in Friesian calves . 173

TECHNIQUES, PATHOLOGICAL, colloidal carbon technique in normal and chagasic rats capable of demonstrating increased vascular permeability in rat lungs before development of intra-alveolar pulmonary oedema . 47
TERATOID TUMOUR of cerebellum . . 285
TERATOMA of neural crest remnants, malignant melanotic neuro-ectodermal tumour of posterior mediastinum probably 165
TESTIS, allergic orchitis lesion in guinea-pigs on normal diet immunised with testicular extracts and complete Freund's adjuvant always develops after epididymal lesion, never after it in guinea-pigs on deficient diet immunised with testicular extracts and incomplete Freund's adjuvant . . 77
THROMBI, deep-vein, vascularisation and fibrosis of 1
THROMBOSIS, mural, in arteries exposed to ultrasound 275
THYMIDINE index in tissue cultures of human tumours, some correlation with behaviour in vivo . . . 117
THYROID GLAND, thyrotoxicosis with sarcoid-like granuloma . . . 289
TISSUE-CULTURE METHODS for tumours of children 117
TRIIODOTHYRONINE effect on vitamin D-induced nephrocalcinosis in jirds: calcium deposited only in basement-membranes in renal cortex . . 13
TUMOURS, HUMAN, malignant melanotic neuro-ectodermal tumour of posterior mediastinum derived from teratoma of remnants of neural crest . 165 primary osteogenic sarcoma of bladder 53 teratoid tumour of cerebellum containing medulloblastoma-like tissue, striated muscle and pigmented epithelium 285 tissue culture of tumours of children . 117

ULTRASOUND, effect on arteries at a range of intensities 275

VACUOLATION of smooth-muscle cells and endothelial cells, followed by necrosis in arteries exposed to ultrasound 275
VACUOLES, autophagic, in hepatocytes of mice after injection of lupinosis toxin, still found weeks after the injection 221
VASCULARISATION of deep-vein thrombi . 1
VEINS, deep, vascularisation and fibrosis of thrombi formed in . . . 1

XANTHOMATOSIS with hyperlipaemia, renal glomerular endothelial cells and possibly some cells from blood stream loaded with storage material, with foamy cytoplasm in . . . 61

ZAMBIA, bilharzial pipe-stem portal fibrosis in 23
